

“The beautiful thing about learning is that no one can take it away
from you.”

-- B.B. King

Learning requires commitment! As a family, think about how much time and effort you are willing to commit to your learning. Without a daily effort, you will not be able to progress.

The Asylum Seekers Education website is designed to help you continue to learn reading, writing, mathematics, sciences. In addition, it is designed to help you be physically active and learn Thai.

Spend at least 30 minutes looking through the website as parents and children, and then decide how you will learn. Fill in and sign the contract below.

Child's name:

Parent's name:

How will you spend your time learning every day?

We recommend that you spend at least 2 hours each day learning the 4 subjects on the website, plus 1 hour each day on physical activities and Thai. Depending on your family, you may want to spend 30 minutes each day on each of the 4 subjects, or you may want to focus each day on a particular subject. See the sample contracts to decide. Then write your agreements here:
